

MASS & ANOINTING OF THE SICK
TUESDAY FEBRUARY 7
7:30 PM IN CHURCH

Looking at the Text of the Roman Missal
Go Forth, the Mass is Ended

As we come to the end of Mass we seem to return to our roots and the reason why we are there in the first place.

The name 'Mass' comes from the words in Latin that are said as people are told that the time has come to return to the business of everyday life. 'Ite missa est' is simply a command to go and in the ancient world might have been said to a gathering of people as things wound up and it was time to leave. It gave us the Latin name 'Missa' which we translate as 'Mass'.

We come to Mass every Sunday for several reasons: to give glory to God, to hear his Word, to offer the Sacrifice of the Mass for the living and the dead, to be nourished by the gift of Holy Communion and in order to be sent out into the world. In a way, we come to Mass in order to be told it is time to go. At the heart of every Christian's vocation is the call to witness to the Gospel by a life of faithful service.

The words of dismissal reflect on our vocation. To draw this out special forms of the invitation of 'go forth, the Mass is ended' have been written.

'Go and announce the Gospel of the Lord', reminds us of Jesus' command to 'go out and teach all nations' – to spread the Good News. Some may have the task of teaching in a public way but all of us are called to spread Christ's message in ordinary ways. Sometimes it's not even what we say but how we say it; it's not always what things we do but how we do them. Often people who are attracted to the Church say that what caught their attention is the sense that a person of faith has something very special about them. It is so important that our lives reflect our beliefs. Our attitudes and the way we treat people give the most eloquent witness.

'Go in peace, glorifying the Lord by your life' tells how we give glory to God. It is by the way in which we live. Jesus said 'I have come that they may have life and have it to the full'. Saint Irenaeus, one of the early teachers of the Church, wrote 'The glory of God is man fully alive'. As we try to live fully at one with God and our neighbour we give him glory and we live in peace. It is the peace which Christ gives, the peace which our world needs.

We go out of the church as part of a great procession as members of the Church, the Body of Christ on our pilgrim way to the glory of heaven.

Vocation Seeds

Pray to know how God wants to use your talents and abilities. Could it be He is calling you to consider priesthood, religious life or diaconate?

If you think God is calling you to a Church vocation, contact Fr. Hansoo 416-968-0997, vocations@vocations.ca or www.vocationstoronto.ca

PLEASE BRING YOUR CHILD'S BAPTISM CANDLE OR A PLAIN WHITE CANDLE.

The Rite of Illumination takes place after the homily.
At that time, one parent/guardian
will be invited to accompany the child to the sanctuary to celebrate the rite.

From the Heart of Don Bosco

Prayer is necessary
for our vocation.

If we avoid praying well
or do not pray at all,
we seriously endanger
our holy vocation.

Abide within the vocation to which you are called.

Sunday January 29, 2012 – 4th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today we rejoice and celebrate WORLD DAY FOR CONSECRATED LIFE. Over the years, many men and women have chosen to live out their baptismal vocation by professing the evangelical counsels of poverty, chastity, and obedience. They do this by joining a religious congregation, a secular institute, or through private vows. We pray especially for the Salesians of Don Bosco and ask God to bless our Church with others who will dedicate their lives to God's service.
